FOUR STAR GENERALS REVISITED FACEBOOK FUN—

Sometimes struggles just pile up! That's what happened with this program that was initially going to be in full swing by now. But alas, the ducks are finally in a row (and staying there!) so the new program start date is Jan.11th. No need to sign up for anything, just follow along on Facebook. Here's how it'll work.

- ◆ Purchase of the pattern is required ($20 and can be found on the web-site)
- ◆ Kit purchase is optional (you would get the entire kit at the time you order), but should you do so I'm offering 15% off the backing if you reserve it at the time you purchase the kit. You can order the kit online ($150), but if you'd like the backing at a discount you'll have to call your order in.
- ◆ Each week you will be making 4 blocks (same block, different fabrics) and 3 border blocks. Making a few border blocks as you go will make it much more fun! I'll post each Saturday the block that will be featured for that week.
- ◆ If you post a picture of the completed blocks to my Facebook page during that week (Monday-Friday) you will be eligible to win a prize! This is a win-win! You end up with a beautiful quilt and if you keep up each week and post a picture, you have 13 chances to win a prize?? You just can't go wrong!

- ◆ There are a couple rules (you know..there always has to be a rule or two). If you have a busy week and don't finish the current blocks, no worries—just don't post a picture that week. Jump back in the next week with your new blocks. To cut down the confusion (because I'm easily confused!!) please only post blocks for the current week. Of course, if you are an overachiever, you can always work ahead of schedule (we'll go through the blocks in the same order they are in the pattern), but only post the current week's blocks. You are eligible to win every week that you post a picture of your current completed blocks.

Stay Safe—Stay Healthy!!

I hope to connect with you soon!
