

Sew much News!

Ruler Box Woolies II

That's right, Me & My Stitches (Julie my very talented friend) and I have another 4 ruler box woolies to offer. You're going to want to jump in quickly to be the first to get these. Sign up and in a couple weeks I'll send a ruler box and two kits/patterns ($46—includes shipping); then in another 2 weeks I'll send out 2 more kits/patterns ($34—you'll be billed via PayPal unless we've made other arrangements) When you sign up you'll be committing to both shipments. Thread kits available too, even at a special price!! Sign up via my web-site, by calling the shop (815)443-2211 Th-Sat) or by emailing to hold your spot!

Four Star Generals Revisted

We've been doing this as a sew along on my new Facebook Group page. It's a page within my regular Facebook page where you can post photos of Yellow Creek Quilt Designs projects, be inspired and maybe even win a prize! You can jump in on this sew along by purchasing the pattern and posting photos of your finished blocks. Details can be found in the previous newsletter posted on my Events page of my web-site. I'm excited to let you know another sew along with begin the end of April. If you keep up each week you won't even need to purchase a pattern!!

Details to come so stay tuned.

Homestead Harvest—New Fabric Line Coming

My friend, Julie Letvin of Me and My Stitches is the newest civil war reproduction fabric designer for Robert Kaufman. I'm so excited this line will be arriving any day! I've designed a couple projects using her fabrics (one along with mine, so you know they play well together—just like us!). I'll have kits ready to go as soon as I can get them cut. You can pre-order now if you'd like! You'll find 'em on my web-site!

Pinwheel Puzzle

Crossing Paths

Be sure to stop in to see not only these projects but the trunk show of Julie's original designs using her line!! What an amazing display it will be!

Have a great week and I hope to connect with you soon!!
