

How Can It Be Fall?!!

I love, love, love summer and it's about to wrap up. What do I love about fall?

The colors of course and pumpkin everything! Now on to some news!

Ready for some sew alongs? I'm part of one that's begun already. My project won't showcase until Oct. but your going to want to jump in now and not miss out on any of these 12 fabulous designers!! Details can be found on a page 3 of this newsletter.

The other sew along is one I'm doing on my facebook group Meet Me At Yellow Creek. Ask to join the group to participate—easy as that! This mystery sew along was to start Sept. 10th, but I've been enjoying summer maybe more than I should, so it won't start until Sept. 24th. It'll be a larger project 84" X 110" featuring 12" blocks and 6" blocks. You'll have 2 weeks to download the pattern free and post photos of your projects to be eligible to win prizes. Patterns will also be available to download for a small cost if you miss the 'free window'. Please join the fun to sew along or just be inspired by all the crazy good posts!

Although shipping was delayed, this fabric line will be worth the wait when it arrives!! I expect it some time in September.

You can see all the coordinating projects and the fabrics themselves on my website now!

Patterns, kits and fabrics are all available for pre-order.
